REASONS FOR THE REQUESTED EXTENSION

As we informed defense counsel on July 25, 2025, the testing of the allegedly infringing FirePro Specimens is in progress with Anderson Materials Evaluation, Inc. Unfortunately, our efforts to have the specimens tested at Stony Brook University fell through, and we had to pivot.

The lead scientist on the testing at Anderson Materials Evaluation Inc. is Dr. Charles Anderson. He will also be one of our expert witnesses. We will provide defense counsel with the documents required by the Federal Rules when we file our amended patent contentions.

Dr. Anderson has informed us that he will not be able to complete the testing in time to meet Nano Fire's L. Patent R. 3.2 deadline of July 30, 2025. He will need two additional weeks after that to complete the task because he is testing for all claims of two patents - not one. The proposed stipulated new schedule above provides for the extra time Dr. Anderson needs to complete his testing and allows one week after Dr. Anderson completes his testing, for us to review the test results and complete and file Nano Fire's amendments to its patent contentions.

For the foregoing reasons, we respectfully submit that good cause exists to modify the Old Dates in the manner suggested above, and such is respectfully requested.

We appreciate the Court's patience, courtesies, and understanding.

Respectfully Submitted,
